

THIS WAY FOR LIVE SPORTING HAPPENINGS

EDITED BY WAGNER

LIGHT TEAM FOR HARVARD THIS SEASON

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 25.—Coach Haughton and his staff of assistants preparing the Crimson Varsity for today's opening game against Colby. The work in the stadium lasted two hours, the regular running through their plays in soft scrimmage against the substitutes, and then playing five minutes of fast football in which Captain Ned Mahan was successful in making a drop kick and a goal from the 45-yard line.

The team was drilled particularly on kicks and in handling kick-offs. The eleven as it will line up will be a very considerable weight which will appear later. Gilman was not at tackle, and Enright did not start in the backfield. The average weight of the eleven was slightly under 172 pounds, the line ranging from 176 pounds and the backs 165 pounds.

The first accident of the season came yesterday. Weatherhead, a very promising end, and a heavy player, breaking a bone in his hand.

CHINESE ATHLETE TRIES FOR CHICAGO FOOTBALL ELEVEN

Football has been added to the sports in which Lee Chang, of University of Chicago, has been his in an effort to land the title of great Chinese athlete.

Chang was one of the first to get into moleskins when Coach A. A. Stagg, of the Chicago college, called the candidates to practice a few days ago.

The almond-eyed athlete is a new hand at football, but has shown a lot of natural ability. He spent a large part of his time during the summer punting a football and acquainting himself with the proper way to handle the pigskin.

Chang has already won his spurs in other sports. He was a member of the U. C. baseball team and is one of the best of the school's dash men, quarter miler and broad jumper. In a recent meet he covered 100 yards in 10 seconds flat.

Chang's speed and his ability to start quickly, learned while practicing the start for sprints and long runs, makes him a good football player. If he makes the Chicago team he will be the only Chinaman on a big United States college eleven.

Harvard's System of Coaches Entirely New For Present Campaign

Boston, Sept. 25.—Harvard's assets this year are a coaching system sufficiently elastic to be applied to almost any situation and a nucleus of powerful players around which a strong eleven can be built. A doleful correspondent at Cambridge notes a difference in the material between this and last season, and certainly one may suspect, considering the loss of Bricker, Hardwick, Bradley, Pennek, Jeff Coolidge, and other strong exponents of the autumn game, that this correspondent had some warrant for his mournful record.

Yet with Mahan and Enright and McKinnock as a basis for a backfield, with Soucy, Parson, J. Cowen, and Gilman in the line, there should be no reason to expect a disappointing season. Curiously, if any cause for worry exists, it will be found not so much in the material as in the coaching staff. In past years the coaching staff has been a group of specialists who had grown to be in their respective spheres—as important to Harvard football as Haughton himself. In the Haughton school, knowing to a degree the ideas of the master, they were qualified to go their ways in the different departments carrying on the ground work that each time later in the season, they could turn to the head coach and say: "Here are your tools, all fashioned to your use."

Whereupon Haughton would take them and apply them to the general tactical purposes which he had had time to develop, without the necessity of diverting attention to individual instruction in the details of the game he had planned.

He knew, for example, that his end coach would instruct the ends, as he himself would have instructed them had he had the time to do so. COBB LEADING HIS LEAGUE IN 4 DEPARTMENTS

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Ty Cobb is leading the American league in four departments of the game—in batting, base stealing, scoring and in total bases. Averages published today show that the Detroit star has outdistanced his teammate, Sam Crawford, for the leadership in the total bases column, and is leading with 261. Cobb's batting average of the last week—377—remains unchanged. O'Dell, of Philadelphia, leads in home runs with six, while Burns, of Detroit and Fournier, of Chicago, are tied for second with five each.

In batting, Fournier was jumped from eighth place to tie with his teammate, Eddie Collins. They are hitting at a .322 clip. Following are Speaker, Boston, .320; McInnis, Philadelphia, .316; Jackson, Chicago, .311.

Detroit leads in club batting with .265; Boston is second with .242.

The fall of Cravath, the heavy hitting outfielder of the Philadelphia team, marked the week's work among the National League batsmen. Cravath, hitherto leading run getter, home run hitter and first in total bases of the league, was tied for total bases by both the Giants captain and Hinchman, of Pittsburgh, retaining only his home run honors.

Doyle increased his percentage as leading batsman of the league with an average of .321. Luderus, Philadelphia, is second with .319. The next three batters are:

Hinchman, Pittsburgh, .310; Dauter, 300; Griffith, Cincinnati, .306. Cincinnati leads in batting with .256; St. Louis is second with .253, and New York third with .250.

Leading run-getters are Doyle, New York, 24; Cravath, Philadelphia, who have 21 each. Doyle and Hinchman, Pittsburgh, are tied for first place in total bases with 246 each. Max Carey, of Pittsburgh, is still the leading base stealer of the league with a total of 37.

JOE O'Rourke IS PLAYER WHO FOUND GROVER ALEXANDER

On the corner lots of St. Paul, Neb., the Young Saints held the title of the leading amateur team for years. Grover Cleveland Alexander was the leading slugger of the club. His fielding position was any place on the diamond but on the hill. In one game it was second, another behind the bat and again in the outfield, so Grover Cleveland was not "born a great pitcher."

With that wonderful control, which is 64 walks in 350 innings, an average of less than two per game for 1915, a record image of the season for a hill artist throughout his baseball career. But he hasn't. A chance, an injury to the regular pitcher of the Young Saints, gave Grover his chance on the hill.

In the kid days Grover was quite a slugger. He could swing from the left or right, and with this in itself is recommendation to get a place in the corner lot nine. So Alex was the handy Andy for the Young Saints of St. Paul, Neb.

Back in 1907 Alex was playing second base. The Young Saints were losing the last game of the season for the town championship. The regular pitcher was bumped all around the grass—everything that went up bounded back in his time fashion. At 12-5 against the Young Saints.

"Let me go in there; let me pitch just one inning, and if I don't stop these kids you can take me out," Alex said to the manager.

"Whoever told you that you could pitch?" was the answer. "Nobody," replied Alex, "but, gee! I can't do no worse than that can I?" Alex went to the hill. He pitched five innings. The Young Saints scored four in the sixth, four in the seventh, one in the eighth and one in the ninth. They won the game, 13 to 12.

When the 1908 season arrived Alexander was the pitcher for the Young Saints. He lost one game that summer, and the following spring came the loss of the corner lot nine. He signed with Galesburg and won 15 out of 23 games. He was purchased by the Indianapolis (A. A.) club in the fall, but shortly before the season closed he was traded to the Chicago (A. A.) club.

Instead of reporting to Indianapolis in 1910 he was shifted to the Syracuse (New York State League) club. With Syracuse he won 29 and lost 14 games.

Joe O'Rourke, the tiny shortstopper who was a member of the Cardinals some years back, was the one who took the tip on Alex. Joe was playing with Albany and, being a close pal of Charley Doolin's, told Doolin to "come down and look at this big Hoosier kid in this league."

Doolin followed the tip and saw Alex knocked off the hill. Charley returned to Philadelphia without making the purchase. Two weeks later O'Rourke wired Doolin to take another look. Doolin made another journey.

The Phil's boss saw Alex pitch a shut-out game, which was the start of a record of 52 successive shutouts in major league.

There you have the story of how Alex started, advanced, developed, and now he may win the world's championship for the National League.

JAKE BOULTES AND ENS WERE IN ST. JOSEPH THIS SEASON

Football Season Gets Under Way For Big University Elevens Today.

(By Wagner.) Jake Boultes, who managed the Bridgeport club last year finished the season with St. Joseph in the West-ern league. He acted as manager of the club, which has had been going poorly all season. Boultes played third and had a good average. A local fan who saw Boultes at his home in St. Louis said Jake did not join any league in the early part of the year but played with a semi-pro team on Sundays. Mutt Ens, Bridgeport's first baseman in 1914, played with St. Joseph this season.

The football season started in earnest for the big college elevens this afternoon. A number of local enthusiasts went to New Haven to see Yale tackle University of Maine. Harvard played Colby and Princeton met Georgetown. Pennsylvania had West Virginia as an opponent.

Detroit had a good chance to gain on the Red Sox yesterday while St. Louis was trimming the American league leaders. But the Tigers took a bad beating from Washington.

Wait till Jawn McGraw meets Jim Gilmore, the Federal president. Gilmore in denying the report that the Feds offered McGraw $200,000 to jump, said, "We want comers in our league not has-beens. McGraw is through in New York." But Gilmore did not deny the report about McGraw until the outlaws had gained much publicity by it.

Howie Baker of this city, who was drafted by the Giants from Little Rock, Ark., will join McGraw's team in St. Louis tomorrow. Pretty smooth for Baker. He will get a ride home at the expense of the Giants and two weeks' salary.

Nehf, the Boston southpaw who had an attack of wildness after starting so brilliantly in his big league career, returned to his early form yesterday. He blanked the Pirates, allowing only four hits.

Many Yale men in this city are wondering why it is that the football coaches have picked Guernsey to replace LeGore as fullback on the eleven. Guernsey is a fine kicker but the chances are that the move made so LeGore would hustle harder in order to win back his position.

Hamilton Fish, the former Harvard captain, has organized a team of college graduates who will play the Carlisle Indians on Thanksgiving day. Red Brann, the former Yale end and Bill Marting, who once played center at Yale, will be with Fish's eleven.

A number of baseball fans will go to New Haven tomorrow to see the Chicago White Sox play the Colonials at Lighthouse Point. The Chicago management has guaranteed that Ed Walsh will twirl for part of the game.

Heinie Zimmerman wired a 200 word apology for using rough language to Umpire Eason so President Tener reinstated Heinie. Who composed the apology for Zim?

RITCHIE AND DUNDEE CLASH ON OCTOBER 7

New York, Sept. 25.—Willie Ritchie and John Dundee were matched last night to meet at Madison Square Garden on Oct. 7 at catchweights, the lightweight champion of America being guaranteed $3,500 by Dundee. Ritchie's fight out for the guarantee and the match was finally made after Scotty Monteth agreed to post the money.

Ritchie's match with Joe Shugrue, which was originally scheduled for Oct. 4, has been postponed until Oct. 26 at the request of the Jersey lightweight. Shugrue is a bit heavy at present and asked for more time, which was granted him. The latter forfeit posted Thursday for the Ritchie match will stand for the later date.

Ritchie and Dundee fought once before, the two lightweight going four rounds in San Francisco at an even stake. Afterward Willie won the championship from Volgaast on a foul.

RED SOX PLAYERS WILL HAVE 3 DAYS REST IN NEXT WEEK

Boston, Mass., Sept. 25.—For the fifth time this year, and since early August, the Red Sox, after winning seven games in a row, were beaten 8 to 4 in a game in which they were greatly outplayed. It was the St. Louis Browns who took the leader's measure. The Red Sox, although they knew that Washington was getting the better of the Tigers, being unable to hold their pace, and seeing the visitors' pace out seven runs in the seventh round. The Sox made a fine ninth inning rally, four men making the circuit, but twice as many points would only have tied the score.

Branch Rickey picked out young Kooib to do the pitching against the Browns and he lived up to the job. In the meantime "Babe" Ruth, Vean Gregg, and Rokey Cooper were being worked hard by Bill Carrigan. The Browns forced the Sox to pitch, putting him in for hits into the first three innings and scoring one run, but Gregg went nicely until the seventh, when he was pounded all over the lot and was miserably supported by Gardner. Finally the Sox drew the short end of the left field fence and the Browns were sure of the game with an 8 to 0 lead.

President Lannin of the Red Sox said that there would be no attempt made to play the postponed Cleveland game here, as doing so would mean a trip from Cleveland for the Indians and, besides the games would interfere with one of the matches between the Braves and Phillies. Boston will have a lay-off from Monday night until Friday next, when it will open its last series in Washington. On Tuesday, however, the club will practice on Braves field, and will watch the 1914 champions play Pat Moran's Quakers the following afternoon.

CHOOSE GUERNSEY OVER LE GORE FOR FULLBACK AT YALE

New Haven, Sept. 25.—As a final preparation for the University of Yale football squad yesterday afternoon drill was limited to signal rehearsal and punting and catching kicks. The four coaches decided that the playing surface of the Bowl was the best gridiron they ever trod.

Because of their recent indisposition it was decided not to staff either Von Holt or Chub Sheldon at tackle and it is doubtful whether they will get into even the latter part of the game. Dick Kent, also is slightly indisposed and Walden, one of the regular guards last year will be started. He is the only regular of last year's eleven who will begin the opening game of this season in his former position.

Captain Wilson is the only other regular who will play tomorrow, but he has been shifted from quarterback to the lineup, as selected, in order to give the members of last season's freshmen team, Mosley, Gates, Baldrige, Allen and Thompson the last named being given quarterback in place of Tom Lewis, who has held the place all the week. Pie Way, a regular guard two years ago, will be started at center with only three days' experience.

Guernsey has again been chosen for his regular position of two seasons ago, fullback displacing Harry LeGore, who was regarded by many as the star of last season's team. Jim Sheldon and Mal Scovil were substitutes last year and played in nearly all the games.

Bunny Ford in Draw With Harry Williams

New Haven, Sept. 25.—Bunny Ford and Harry Williams put up a great battle at the Arena last night for ten rounds and it was the windup of the best boxing show seen in this city for a good many years.

The referee, Dave Fitzgerald, called the start but a draw and this was about all he could do. He certainly could not have given the bout to Ford, for Williams had much the better of the last two rounds and in the tenth he had Ford groggy. Ford did not appear to be as good advantage as he did in his fight with Charley Bergen and he moved slower. Williams put up the best fight of his career. Ford weighed 134 pounds and Williams 133.

YALE MEN CLAIM NO COACH PICKED FOR BASEBALL YET

New Haven, Sept. 25.—Ex-Captain Louis S. Middlebrook of the Yale baseball team is spending a week at Woodmont before going into the insurance business in Hartford. Middlebrook came into this city yesterday and said that considerable nonsense had been printed about offers made to big leaguers to coach the Yale baseball team next season. He said no offer had been made and the committee which will recommend a selection to the Yale Athletic association has not come to any decision in the matter.

This committee consists of Captain Milburn, Dutch Carter and George Case of New York, and Mr. Middlebrook. The members of the committee have considered certain available men, but no offer has been made. Johnny Evers, Jack Coombs and Billy Lauder have been mentioned as prospective coaches and Mr. Middlebrook must have given but the notices about themselves.

Captain Milburn will be here next week and the Yale Athletic association will have a meeting at which the baseball committee will recommend a choice to the association.

VANCE VERY WILD AND YANKS LOSE TO CLEVELAND TEAM

New York, Sept. 25.—Lee Fohl's lowly tribe of Cleveland Indians handed the Yankees a sound thrashing in the opening game of the final series between the two teams yesterday. The Indians won by the score of 4 to 1. And, as has been the custom of late, a young pitcher, fresh from the minors, scored the triumph for the Indians. Herbert, later of the Mason City Club, Iowa, was the name of the recruit, and the very able manner in which he scored over the local outfit left no doubt that his stay with the Indians will be a long one.

Only four hits were all that our Yankees were able to collect off Garrett during the nine innings of pastime.

Dazzy Vance worked for the Yanks as best as he could, but he had a lot of good bases left in his system, for he is only 26 years old, but whether he can get it out is the problem that is worrying his admirers. Many times Vance has been hit hard, but he has never been hit out of his system, for he is only 26 years old, but whether he can get it out is the problem that is worrying his admirers. Many times Vance has been hit hard, but he has never been hit out of his system, for he is only 26 years old, but whether he can get it out is the problem that is worrying his admirers.

Bryan and Miss Paige Win at Mixed Doubles

Gregory Bryan and Miss Paige won the mixed doubles tournament at the Brookline Country club yesterday by defeating Anderson and Mrs. Wheeler, 9-7, 9-7. The final match was hard fought, as the scores indicate. The Brookline golf team went to Stamford today to play the Wee Burn team.

Rube Marquard Rounds Out Seventh Year in Big Show

That most eccentric, brilliant and unreliable of pitchers, Richard L. Marquard, has rounded out his seventh year in the big show today. Whether the famous Rube will be able to shine much longer remains to be seen. It is practically a cinch that he will not, for he is only 26 years old, but whether he can get it out is the problem that is worrying his admirers. RESTA DRIVES RACER AT 106 MILES AN HOUR

New York, Sept. 25.—Dario Resta in his racing Peugeot car made the fastest time in the trial spins over the two-mile track at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway yesterday afternoon. It was the first time that Resta has driven a racer since he lowered the world's record for ten miles on the new track last Saturday. His fastest time for one lap yesterday was 1:08:10, or 106 miles an hour.

There were fifteen racers out yesterday, and it was a thrilling sight to watch the machines come bounding down on the straightaways from the banks, one a few inches behind another. There were several sprints between the drivers, and when Resta made his fast time he passed three cars, all going at terrific speed. Many of the cars made an average of 100 miles an hour and all of them did better than ninety miles an hour.

Barney Oldfield sent his Delage skipping around at 104 miles an hour. Barney explained that, although the racer he drove was his own, it was practically a gift from David G. Joyce, a Minnesota lumberman. Mr. Joyce bought the racer and turned it over to Oldfield for a one-dollar bill. Barney said that the money he had won by racing the car had been offered to Mr. Joyce but the western lumberman told Barney the money was his own.

Rem-Arms To Play Rem-Yosts Tomorrow

George Mosher and Christy of the Singer team have been signed to play with the Rem-Yosts against the Rem-Arms in the series which will be resumed at Yost field tomorrow afternoon. Finn will pitch for the Yosts and the Arms management will use Hayes or Bennett. The Arms players have already taken two games.
